

Journal of Librarianship

VOLUME 21 1989

Library Association Publishing Ltd
London

Journal of Librarianship

CONTENTS AND ABSTRACTS

VOLUME 21 NUMBER 1
JANUARY 1989

Africana in LC and DD classification schemes: a need for an Africana scheme?

H O M IWUJI

1-18

The article examines in some detail the provisions made for African subjects in the Library of Congress and Dewey Decimal Classification schemes, two schemes in general use in Africa. It notes some gross inadequacies of these schemes in classing African subjects, especially in the social sciences and humanities. It suggests extensive modifications of existing schemes rather than attempting to devise an entirely different scheme for Africana, but such modifications should be concerted, and not left to the whims and caprices of individual classifiers.

Using management information in a polytechnic library

PHILIP PAYNE and JEAN MARIE WILLERS

19-35

The pressures on librarians to utilize management information are outlined. The practical applications made of management information based on data from the SWALCAP shared circulation system in a polytechnic library are then described. Difficulties and opportunities are rehearsed, with some suggestions for the better take-up of management information for policy and decision making.

Library cooperation in Kenya

JAPHET N OTIKE

36-48

The article analyses current library cooperation in Kenya. In an attempt to understand the situation, a brief account of the country's information infrastructure is provided. Effort has been made to provide a detailed account of the cooperative programmes currently in existence, though it is noted that many of these programmes still remain informal. Problems hindering effective cooperation have been isolated. It is felt that many of these obstacles could be overcome with the formulation by the government of a national information policy.

Library and information plans: a review of the literature

BRENDA WHITE

49-59

The review looks at the development of library and information plans (LIPs) in Britain and the characteristics of the literature produced by them. It examines some of the features of interim reports and of final reports, looking specifically at the presentation of survey results, the failure to assess user needs, and the nature of proposals. It concludes that the success or otherwise of LIPs will be judged by their practical results rather than by the quality of their literature. The review is supported by a complete list of LIPs completed or in progress at August 1988, followed by references to their reports.

Communication

A comment on British Library microform publication

PETER LEWIS

60-1

Review articles

Public libraries in practice as seen by PLR

DOUGLAS BETTS

62-9

Spreading the word

D J FOSKETT

70-6

This review article is based on the book of the same title, by Douglas Coombs.

Reviews

- University of South Africa, Department of Library and Information Science. The use of libraries for the development of South Africa
DOUGLAS VARLEY 77-9

- Yates-Mercer, P A (ed.). Future trends in information science and technology.
BLAISE CRONIN 80-1

- Orbell, John. A guide to tracing the history of a business
C M CLUBB 81-3

VOLUME 21 NUMBER 2 APRIL 1989

- Evaluating online and CD-ROM reference sources
J A LARGE 87-108

The article examines the criteria by which online services and CD-ROM products might be evaluated, which are not necessarily the same as those used to evaluate printed reference works. This is done under three main headings: databases, hosts and telecommunications networks.

- Continuing education and training for academic library staff
N ROBERTS and T KONN 109-28

Some 52 university and 30 polytechnic librarians were questioned about forms of continuing education and training in their libraries. Induction and further education issues were explored, as well as attitudes to the idea of continuing education. The survey took place between November 1987 and January 1988. A response rate of 87 per cent was achieved. Marked differences in practices were revealed between polytechnic and university libraries. Responses indicated a growing interest in continuing education, often influenced by factors outside the direct control of librarians.

- Education for conservation in British library schools: current practices and future prospects
JOHN FEATHER and ANNE LUSHER 129-38

Conservation of materials has recently become a more urgent issue than for many years past, and is prominent at both national and international levels. It is now seen as an important aspect of collection management, and it is in that context that it is appearing in library school curricula. A recent study undertaken by the authors, with funding from BLR&DD and BLHSS (Preservation Services), has shown that the schools are reflecting the growing interest of practitioners and students in this area of librarianship.

Review article

- Confessions of an online searcher
C C PARKER 139-44

This article ruminates on some of the problems that have still to be solved in online information retrieval, petitions for minor enhancements and dreams of revolution.

Reviews

- Norton, B. Charging for library and information services
STEPHEN J BAILEY 145-7

- Helal, A H, and Weiss, J W (eds). International library cooperation
MARY BIGGS 147-9

- Wood, Lawraine, and Haigh, Richard (eds). The future of industrial information services
WILFRED ASHWORTH 149-51

- Abell-Seddon, Brian. Museum catalogues—a foundation for computer processing
BRIAN HAYTON 151

- Gillam, Stanley. The Divinity School and Duke Humfrey's Library at Oxford
PETER HOARE 152-3

VOLUME 21 NUMBER 3

JULY 1989

OPAC research in the UK
DEREK GREENWOOD

157-73

The rapid pace of OPAC implementation in this country is providing a fruitful environment for research, with a wide range of projects currently being undertaken, including a number concerned with the application of advanced information retrieval techniques to OPAC systems. This article reviews the current situation and describes some of the more important research projects being undertaken, particularly those funded by the British Library Research and Development Department. A brief description of the British Library's own OPAC project is also provided. The article concludes with an examination of the value of OPAC research and a look at where further research effort might best be concentrated.

Public library services as information networks: Nigeria in the twenty-first century

MARY ELLEN CHIJOKE

174-85

Public libraries in Nigeria have failed to meet the needs of the majority of the population. This article examines the reasons why, and sets out a programme for the development of community information centres, serving both the urban and rural populations and integrated into multipurpose community libraries. The central public library service needs to support community-based libraries with services and provide a link to the worldwide network of information. Changes necessary to the curricula of library schools to train community information workers are outlined. This article is based on a paper given at the 25th Annual Conference of the Nigerian Library Association, Abeokuta, March 1987.

Academic library cooperation and document supply

A F MacDOUGALL, H WHEELHOUSE and J M WILSON

186-99

The article discusses options for cooperative document supply which formed part of a large research project in the East Midlands. Modelling was carried out, based on collected data, to establish the cost-effectiveness of various forms of document supply. It was concluded that only if British Library Document Supply Centre (BLDSC) charges were to rise substantially would a local system become worthy of serious consideration as a potential cost saver: figures were suggested at which it would be cost-effective to consider local schemes if BLDSC moved towards full cost recovery. The possibility of contracting out was also considered.

Communication

A comment on British Library microform publications

JULIAN WARNER

200-1

Review article

Library and information science research

R T BOTTLE

202-7

A pyramidal model is put forward to explain why library and information research (LIS) is at least an order of magnitude less in quantity than that in science and technology. The effect of the growing information industry on this model is discussed. Current Research for the Information Profession is sampled and a scientometric review provided. A recent review of LIS academic research in the UK is commented on. Half-life data are used to criticize the rather tardy publication of a recent conference proceedings.

Reviews

Stubley, Peter, BLCMP: a guide for librarians and systems managers

BARRY CROPPER

208-10

Comaromi, John P, and Satija, M.P. Dewey Decimal Classification. History and current status

JENS B FRIIS-HANSEN

210-11

Abbot A. The system of professions. An essay on the division of expert labor

NORMAN ROBERTS

212-14

Day, Alan. The British Library. A guide to its structure, publications, collections and services

COLIN STEELE

214-17

Shercliff, W H. Morality to adventure: Manchester Polytechnic's collection of children's books, 1840-1939

JOYCE IRENE WHALLEY

217-20

VOLUME 21 NUMBER 4 OCTOBER 1989

The design of a Chinese/English library system: a Hong Kong librarian's perspective

GRACE CHENG

225-45

This article gives an overview of the major considerations and problems in designing a Chinese/English library system outside of China, Taiwan and the USA. It investigates the international scene in Chinese data processing. Questions on input methods, the machine representation of Chinese characters, the availability and suitability of Chinese input-output systems and bibliographic utilities on the market, and the MARC formats and data structure of library systems are explored. This leads to the logical conclusion that standardization is of prime importance in the automation of Chinese systems. Without it, librarians will have to make difficult decisions and face the consequence of not being able to communicate and share resources.

The BNB Research Fund: cutting across the boundaries

DEREK GREENWOOD

246-59

This article describes the work of the BNB Research Fund, which is administered by the British Library Research and Development Department. Terms of reference and major activities of the fund are included. A number of areas for future research are identified.

Community libraries: a brief review of their origins and nature with particular reference to South Africa

CHRISTINE STILWELL

260-9

This review of the development of community libraries draws upon a wide range of sources. Public libraries in Africa were established by colonials for colonials, and the needs of the colonized were subservient. In South Africa public libraries have been retarded by the racial policies of a succession of governments, and by the class implications of education and library provision. Their lack of relevance has resulted in a certain neutrality but this has positive implications for their potential role in information provision at present.

Review article

Charges in libraries: a view from the German Democratic Republic [correction: Federal Republic of Germany]

ANDREA POLDEN

270-8

The publication in the Federal Republic of Germany of a report on charging for library services makes possible a comparison of the situation there and in the United Kingdom.

Reviews

Line, Maurice B. Lines of thought: the selected papers of Maurice B. Line

IAN LOVECY

279-81

White, Brenda. Apologia pro vita sua: career profiles of senior library/information people

DAVID P FISHER

281-3

Davinson, Donald. Academic libraries in the enterprise culture

DEREK LAW

284-6

Kinnell, Margaret, Pain-Lewins, Helen, and Stevenson, Janet. Book acquisition and use by young people: a review of research initiatives

PEGGY HEEKS

286-8

Shillinglaw, N, and Thomas, W (eds). The information society

CHRISTOPHER MERRETT

288-90

NAME INDEX

of authors of articles, review articles, reviews and communications

- ASHWORTH, Wilfred
Review of The future of industrial information services by Lawraine Wood and Richard Haigh (eds)
149-51 (April)
- BAILEY, Stephen J
Review of Charging for library and information services by B Norton
145-7 (April)
- BETTS, Douglas
Public libraries in practice as seen by PLR
62-9 (January)
- BIGGS, Mary
Review of International library cooperation by A H Helal and J W Weiss (eds)
147-9 (April)
- BOTTLE, R T
Library and information science research
202-7 (July)
- CHENG, Grace
The design of a Chinese/English library system: a Hong Kong librarian's perspective
225-45 (October)
- CHIJIJOKE, Mary Ellen
Public library services as information networks: Nigeria in the twenty-first century
174-85 (July)
- CLUBB, C M
Review of A guide to tracing the history of a business by John Orbell
81-3 (January)
- CRONIN, Blaise
Review of Future trends in information science and technology by P A Yates-Mercer (ed.)
80-1 (January)
- CROPPER, Barry
Review of BLCMP: a guide for librarians and systems managers
208-10 (July)
- FEATHER, John, and LUSHER, Anne
Education for conservation in British library schools: current practices and future prospects
129-38 (April)
- FISHER, David D
Review of Apologia pro vita sua: career profiles of senior library/information people by Brenda White
281-3 (October)
- FOSKETT, D J
Spreading the word
70-6 (January)
- FRIIS-HANSEN, JENS B
Review of Dewey Decimal Classification. History and current status by John P Comaromi and M P Satija
210-11 (July)
- GREENWOOD, Derek
OPAC research in the UK
157-73 (July)
The BNB Research Fund: cutting across the boundaries
246-59 (October)
- HAYTON, Brian
Review of Museum catalogues—a foundation for computer processing by Brian Abell-Seddon
151 (April)
- HEEKS, Peggy
Review of Book acquisition and use by young people: a review of research initiatives by Margaret Kinnell and Helen Pain-Lewins
286-8 (October)
- HOARE, Peter
Review of The Divinity School and Duke Humfrey's Library at Oxford by Stanley Gillam
152-3 (April)
- IWUJI, H O M
Africana in LC and DD classification schemes: a need for an Africana scheme?
1-18 (January)
- KONN, T, see ROBERTS, N, and KONN, T
- LARGE, J A
Evaluating online and CD-ROM reference sources
87-108 (April)
- LAW, Derek
Review of Academic libraries in the enterprise culture by Donald Davinson
284-6 (October)
- LEWIS, Peter
Communication on British Library microform publications
60-1 (January)
- LOVECY, Ian
Review of Lines of thought: the selected papers of Maurice B Line by Maurice B Line
279-81 (October)
- LUSHER, Anne, see FEATHER, John, and LUSHER, Anne
- MacDOUGALL, A F, WHEELHOUSE, H, and WILSON, J M
Academic library cooperation and document supply
186-99 (July)

- MERRETT, Christopher
Review of The information society by
N Shillinglaw and W Thomas (eds)
288-90 (October)
- OTIKE, Japhet N
Library cooperation in Kenya
36-48 (January)
- PARKER, C C
Confessions of an online searcher
139-44 (April)
- PAYNE, Philip, and WILLERS, Jean
Marie
Using management information in a polytechnic library
19-35 (January)
- POLDEN, Andrea
Charges in libraries: a view from the German Democratic Republic
[correction: Federal Republic of Germany]
270-9 (October)
- ROBERTS, N, and KONN, T
Continuing education and training for academic staff
109-28 (April)
- ROBERTS, Norman
Review of *The system of professions.
An essay on the division of expert labor* by A Abbot
212-14 (July)
- STEELE, Colin
Review of The British Library. A guide to its structure, publications, collections and services by Alan Day
214-17 (July)
- STILWELL, Christine
Community libraries: a brief review of their origins and nature with particular reference to South Africa
260-9 (October)
- VARLEY, Douglas
Review of The use of libraries for the development of South Africa by University of South Africa,
Department of Library and Information Science
77-9 (January)
- WARNER, Julian
A comment on British Library
microform publications
200-1 (July)
- WHALLEY, Joyce Irene
Review of *Morality to adventure:
Manchester Polytechnic's collection of children's books, 1840-1939* by W H
Shercliff (comp.)
217-20 (July)
- WHEELHOUSE, H, see MacDOUGALL, A
F, WHEELHOUSE, H, and WILSON, J
M
- WHITE, Brenda
Library and information plans: a review of the literature
49-59 (January)
- WILLERS, Jean Marie, see PAYNE,
Philip, and WILLERS, Jean Marie
- WILSON, J M, see MacDOUGALL, A F,
WHEELHOUSE, H, and WILSON, J M

BOOKS REVIEWED

Alphabetical listing by author/editor or title where no author/editor credited

- Abbot, A. The system of professions. An essay on the division of expert labor 212-14 (July)
- Abell-Seddon, Brian. Museum catalogues—a foundation for computer processing 151 (April)
- Armstrong, C J, and Large, J A (eds). Manual of online search strategies 139-44 (April)
- Beyersdorff, Günter, and Lux, Claudia. Entgelte in Bibliotheken: Wechselwirkungen zwischen Gebühren und Dienstleistungen 270-8 (October)
- Comaromi, John P, and Satija, M P. Dewey Decimal Classification. History and current status 210-11 (July)
- Coombs, Douglas. Spreading the word: the library work of the British Council 70-6 (January)
- Davinson, Donald. Academic libraries in the enterprise culture 284-6 (October)
- Day, Alan. The British Library. A guide to its structure, publications, collections and services 214-17 (July)
- Elliott, Pirkko (ed.). Current Research for the Information Profession 1987/88 202-7 (July)
- Gillam, Stanley. The Divinity School and Duke Humfrey's Library at Oxford 152-3 (April)
- Hasted, Anne, Mead, Roger, and Wheeler, Sharon. PLR loans: a statistical exploration 62-9 (January)
- Helal, A H, and Weiss, J W (eds). International library cooperation 147-9 (April)
- Kinnell, Margaret, Pain-Lewins, Helen, and Stevenson, Janet. Book acquisition and use by young people: a review of research initiatives 286-8 (October)
- Line, Maurice B. Lines of thought: the selected papers of Maurice B. Line 279-81 (October)
- Nicholas, D, Harris, K, and Erbach, G. Online searching: its impact on information users 139-44 (April)
- Norton, B. Charging for library and information services 145-7 (April)
- Orbell, John. A guide to tracing the history of business 81-3 (January)
- Shercliff, W H (comp.). Morality to adventure: Manchester Polytechnic's collection of children's books, 1840-1939 217-20 (July)
- Shillinglaw, N, and Thomas, W (eds). The information society 288-90 (October)
- Stubley, Peter. BLCMP: a guide for librarians and systems managers 208-10 (July)
- Sumsion, John. PLR in practice: a report to the Advisory Committee 62-9 (January)
- Tudor-Šilović, N, and Mikel, I (eds). Information research methods in library and information science 202-7 (July)
- University of South Africa, Department of Library and Information Science. The use of libraries for the development of South Africa 77-9 (January)
- White, Brenda. Apologia pro vita sua: career profiles of senior library/information people 281-3 (October)
- Wood, Lawraine, and Haigh, Richard (eds). The future of industrial information services 149-51 (April)
- Yates-Mercer, P A (ed.). Future trends in information science and technology 80-1 (January)

The Journal of Librarianship is covered by the following abstracting services: Library and Information Science Abstracts (UK), Information Science Abstracts and Library Literature (USA), Informatics Abstracts/Referativny Zhurnal (USSR) and Informationsdienst Bibliothekswesen (West Germany).